

Refugees, Asylum Seekers and Migrants Directory

Updated 2 May 2021

This directory lists organisations which offer support to or are taking action for refugees, asylum seekers and migrants. It also lists organisations which offer specific services of interest to refugees, asylum seekers and migrants.

There are a number of refugee, asylum seeker and migrant community groups which provide support across the city. A list of these groups is included here. The directory is updated regularly, so if you spot any errors, please contact Sanctuary on Sea at info@brighton-and-hove.cityofsanctuary.org

Other sources of information about local organisations and services include:

- A directory of local community organisations and their services is on the Community Works' website.
- A directory of local organisations which support groups to organise themselves and run activities is on the Community Works' website.
- A website listing a range of health and social care services is on the My Life website.
- A website listing services for young people is on the Where To Go For website.

If you want to know more about groups and organisations coming together across the UK to take action for refugees in Calais, and beyond, the Calaid-ipedia website has a list.

The organisations listed in the Local sections here are based in Brighton and Hove or nearby in East Sussex and West Sussex.

Facebook: RightToRemainUK

Twitter: @Right\_to\_Remain

Right to Remain's vision is a world in which everyone can exercise their right to remain with dignity and humanity, where they need to be.

In April 2020 Right to Remain launched the online version of the Asylum Navigation Board. The Board helps people understand the UK asylum process, raises awareness of common problems people face as they navigate the process, and shares survival strategies. The navigation board, developed by Right to Remain, Dr Vicky Canning and Calverts Cooperative, was originally a "serious board game", with a physical real-life presence. It was launched in 2018, with copies going out to asylum support groups, community service-providers, universities and local government departments across the UK. With people no longer meeting face-to-face and attending support groups, Right to Remain has developed it as an online resource. Right to Remain also produces the Right to Remain Toolkit – a guide to the UK immigration and asylum system. It gives an overview of the legal system and procedures, with detailed information on rights and options at key stages, and actions you can take in support of your claim, or to help someone else. You can download the toolkit here.

Brighton and Hove City Council is proud to be welcoming Syrian refugees through the UK's Vulnerable Person's Resettlement Scheme (VPRS) which aims to resettle 20,000 Syrian refugees across the UK by 2020. The success of the scheme is reliant on local landlords willing to provide properties at affordable rates and for at least one year or longer if possible.

If you have any questions about the resettlement scheme in Brighton and Hove or you are a private landlord and want to find out more, please get in touch.

Brighton and Hove schools work hard to prevent and respond to bullying, but bullying does occur and children and young people often need the support of adults to resolve it.

The 'Safe from bullying' leaflet aims to support parents and carers to work with schools to resolve bullying issues. The leaflet was written by Brighton and Hove City Council's Children's Services working in partnership with the Parent's Forum. We also involved other statutory, community and voluntary sector organisations.

Tel: 01273 292735

Email: communitysafety.casework@brighton-hove.gov.uk

Racist and religiously motivated incidents, disability hate incidents, transphobic and homophobic hate incidents and anti-social behaviour can be reported directly to a specialist casework service within the Community Safety Casework Team based at Hove Town Hall (BHCC). Vulnerability and risk are assessed for each incident and the team will either directly support victims, or refer cases to appropriate agencies. The team can also provide advice and guidance regarding any hate incident or anti-social behaviour concern. Hate incidents or anti-social behaviour can also be reported directly to the police by calling 101 (or 999 in an emergency).

MODERN SLAVERY AND HUMAN TRAFFICKING

Safe in the City

Web: www.safeinthecity.info/getting-help/modern-slavery-and-trafficking

Modern slavery is a term used to describe human trafficking, forced labour, slavery and servitude. Human trafficking occurs when people are moved from one place to another with the use of force or deception for the purpose of exploitation, for example, in the sex industry, in organised crime or for forced labour. Victims of modern slavery are often migrants. This crime is hidden from view and there are many barriers to victims reporting what has happened to them.

If you suspect that someone is the victim of modern slavery, or if you are a victim, call the police on 101 (or 999 in an emergency). If the victim is a child, call the police or social services in the same way as you would report another child protection concern.

1:1 casework to support English, employability and integration

The MESH team provides an integrated ‘one stop’ advice service for migrants 16 years and over, offering a welcoming gateway to ESOL learning provision plus signposting and referral to other support services across Brighton and Hove. Members of the team work with people on a one-to-one basis and connect them with the right support as soon as possible, helping people achieve their aims in relation to education, employment and integration into the life of the city.

There are two MESH case workers – Cicely Lloyd is working at Trust for developing Communities, (who work in neighbourhoods, across the city and beyond to support and facilitate community-led changes) and Rosa Jones is based at Voices in Exile, (a local charity offering practical and legal support to refugees, asylum seekers and vulnerable migrants). The project co-ordinator Alison Kelly is based at Friends Centre, an independent adult education organisation and charity which serves over 1,100 learners each year through their wide range of daytime and evening classes.

The personalised 1:1 support from case workers offers help with:

- improving English
- using leisure and public services
- training and education
- volunteering and internships
- getting into work
- financial skills
- meeting people

To refer someone, self-refer or for further information please contact one of the case workers.

Guardians are talented and well connected in all sorts of fields including education, health and social care; management consultancy and journalism. They are matched up with people with ambition from excluded communities such as refugees. Guardians work with them on their ambitions by using their networks to find opportunities for growth and success in their chosen field. They work in partnership with referring organisations including City of Sanctuary, the Sussex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust and Brighton Mind. Most work is by email and telephone with some face to face contact with customers. Referrals do not come directly from individuals but from organisations working with people who are likely to need Growing Points' help.

Psychotherapeutic counselling is provided by the Wellbeing Service, a part of the local NHS primary mental healthcare service. It is an adults-only service and works with anyone (including refugees and asylum seekers) who doesn't need hospitalisation or very intensive input with mental health issues at a primary level. The Service works with interpreters when necessary and can help refugees and asylum seekers struggling with the mental health impact of what their status has imposed on them, including issues such as self-esteem and trust. The Wellbeing Service offers six sessions to patients who are referred to them. There are 2 routes into the Wellbeing Service, via a GP and via a form that can be downloaded from the website. The Service has a limited capacity and present waiting list of approximately 4-6 months.

If you feel you are not able to keep yourself safe, and do not need immediate medical assistance, you should contact the Mental Health Rapid Response Service which is able to offer immediate support: 0300 304 0078 (24 hours a day, 7 days a week including bank holidays).

LEGAL ADVICE – LOCAL CHARITIES

The Migration Law Clinic at the University of Sussex was established in 2019 to offer migration and asylum legal advice on a pro bono (cost-free) basis to any individual who requires advice in this legal field and cannot afford to pay a legal practitioner. The Clinic has OISC registration (at Level 3). In its first months, the Clinic focussed on asylum law and Article 8 issues, and provided advice on citizenship applications. The Clinic does not run during university holiday or assessment periods, which restricts its capacity, and unfortunately this means it is unable to accept any new clients before the start of the next academic year (September 2019). For further information please email migrationlaw@sussex.ac.uk

The legal framework in England and Wales is heavily regulated and legal advice can only be provided under very strict conditions. The Immigration and Asylum Act 1999 made it unlawful for anyone to provide unregulated immigration advice or immigration services. Immigration advice in the UK is regulated by the OISC (Office of the Immigration Services Commissioner). The type of advice that a qualified and registered adviser can give depends on their level of qualification. Click here for an explanation on the Gov.uk website.

For more complex immigration issues, an immigration solicitor or specialist caseworker is needed. You need to make sure that an immigration specialist is registered with OISC before you ask for their advice.

There are two ways of accessing immigration and asylum representation. Firstly, through private solicitors at regulated law firms. They will charge fees which can be discussed directly with your solicitor. The second is through the publicly funded legal aid scheme for asylum claims and some limited types of immigration cases. If you qualify to receive legal aid, the Legal Services Commission (LSC) is responsible for the payment of your fees. The amount the LSC is willing to pay may be limited; in some cases you may have to pay towards the cost. Qualifying for legal aid to meet the costs of immigration and asylum representation is dependent on your financial position and the nature of your claim. You can find out if you're eligible in the following ways:

- Citizens Advice website explains the financial conditions for getting civil legal aid.
- Government website includes an online tool to check if you can get legal aid.
- Civil Legal Advice helpline: call 0345 345 434.

In Brighton and Hove, the lack of immigration advice and representation has reached a critically low level. There are very few OISC accredited advisors, particularly at the higher level of OISC qualification. Where legal aid is still available for asylum applications, it can be difficult to secure representation. Currently, the only local legal aid representation and advice is supplied by Brighton Housing Trust, but it cannot take on all cases. At the time of writing, they were prioritising cases involving children and only a limited number of adult cases. However, this may change so please contact them if you have a claim that may be eligible for legal aid support. Please see its website here for further information.....

Please note that services funded by legal aid provide a comparable quality to private services, so if you are entitled to legal aid representation you would be well-advised to try and secure it. Out of area, legal aid cases may be taken on by Barnes Harrild and Dyer, a solicitor firm based in Croydon (details below).

Anyone looking for information about organisations or people providing legal services in England and Wales that are regulated by the Solicitors Regulation Authority (SRA) can freely search the online Find a Solicitor service run by the Law Society; this can be found on the Law Society website.....

Voices in Exile is accredited to provide specialist immigration advice up to OISC Level 2. We can assist with complex applications but cannot represent in appeals to the First Tier Tribunal or Upper Tier Tribunal or with judicial review. Our services are for vulnerable and/or destitute migrants, asylum seekers and refugees who are not eligible for legal aid and/or do not have the means to pay for private legal advice. As a general rule we cannot currently assist EEA nationals – but will consider particularly vulnerable/complex cases. We also provide generalist advice on welfare benefits, housing and homelessness, asylum support, children's and adult community care. You can download our referral form from our website.

We currently deliver the following free advice services from our premises in Kemptown:

- Immigration advice drop-in – Tuesdays 1.30 to 3.30 p.m.: for refugees, asylum seekers and migrants unable to pay for immigration advice or to access legal aid services elsewhere. St. John the Baptist Church parish hall – entrance on Bristol Road, BN2 1AP
- Phone advice – Thursdays 2 to 4 p.m. on 01273 082105
- Email advice – we will respond to email advice enquiries sent to advice@voicesinexile.org as soon as we practically can.
- Destitution service and food bank (generalist advice) – Fridays 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.: by referral only (through our referral form, an email or phone call) for clients who are destitute or with no recourse to public funds.

Please note that we cannot see clients without an appointment or outside these drop-in times.

The Migrant Welcome Project aims to enable the coming together of migrants in Brighton and Hove to form friendships and mutual support to explore what the City has to offer. They meet weekly in term-time to discuss what they would find useful and share what they have learned, and to take trips around the City. The sessions and trips are supported by Rosa Jones (group facilitator) and Alison Kelly (project co-ordinator) and are funded by the project to increase confidence in:

- accessing practical services
- travelling the City
- exploring leisure interests
- meeting new people
- surviving on a budget
- sharing experience and making plans
- discovering opportunities to improve health and wellbeing
